

Homepage

The front page of the Sales Price Prediction web application presents an intuitive user interface. Users can input product details and view predicted sales prices instantly. It offers a seamless experience with clear instructions and visually appealing design to facilitate easy navigation and access to accurate sales price forecasts.

